BAL-005 has recently been posted for comments, along with BAL-001 to -003 and BAL-007 to -011. While the proposed changes to the posted version appear to be minor, having experienced the difficulties with keeping track of changes to IRO-006 when several versions were posted at about the same time, we strongly recommend that any standard development work be put on hold, or posting of the revised version be withheld, until after the version that's being commented on is balloted and approved.
