

Stakeholder Roles within the IMO

Derek Cowbourne

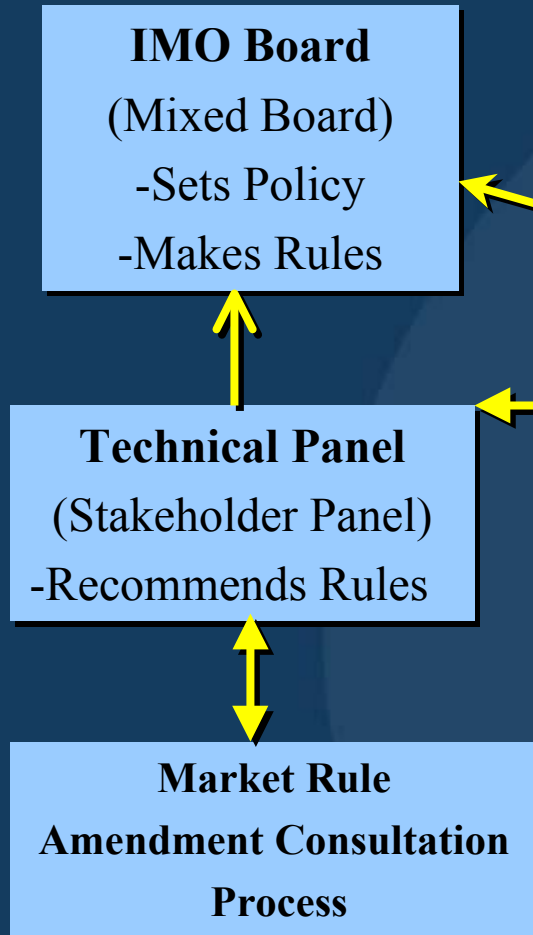

Vice President, Market Services

Canadian Independent Power Conference

October 29, 2002

Stakeholder Input to Policy, Rules and Procedures

Market Governance Process

Staff Advisory Process

Consultation Objectives

- To give participants and stakeholders an effective say in the evolution of their market, particularly on issues with commercial and reliability impact.
- To enable the market to evolve in a timely manner in step with participant needs, advancements in market technology and the objectives of Provincial Legislation
- To provide advice to the IMO on relevant issues and decisions.

Consultation Framework

- Market Advisory Council
- Standing Committees
- Market Rule Amendment Process
- Change Management Process
- Participant Issues Management Process
- Web based consultation support

The Market Advisory Council

Primary focus:

- Advice on fundamental features of Market Evolution
- Discussion of current market issues
- Discussion of IMO services and service quality

Two way forum for members:

- To provide views and advice on market features and related rationale
- To identify points of agreement or difference between the different market sectors

Standing Committees

Market Operations Standing Committee

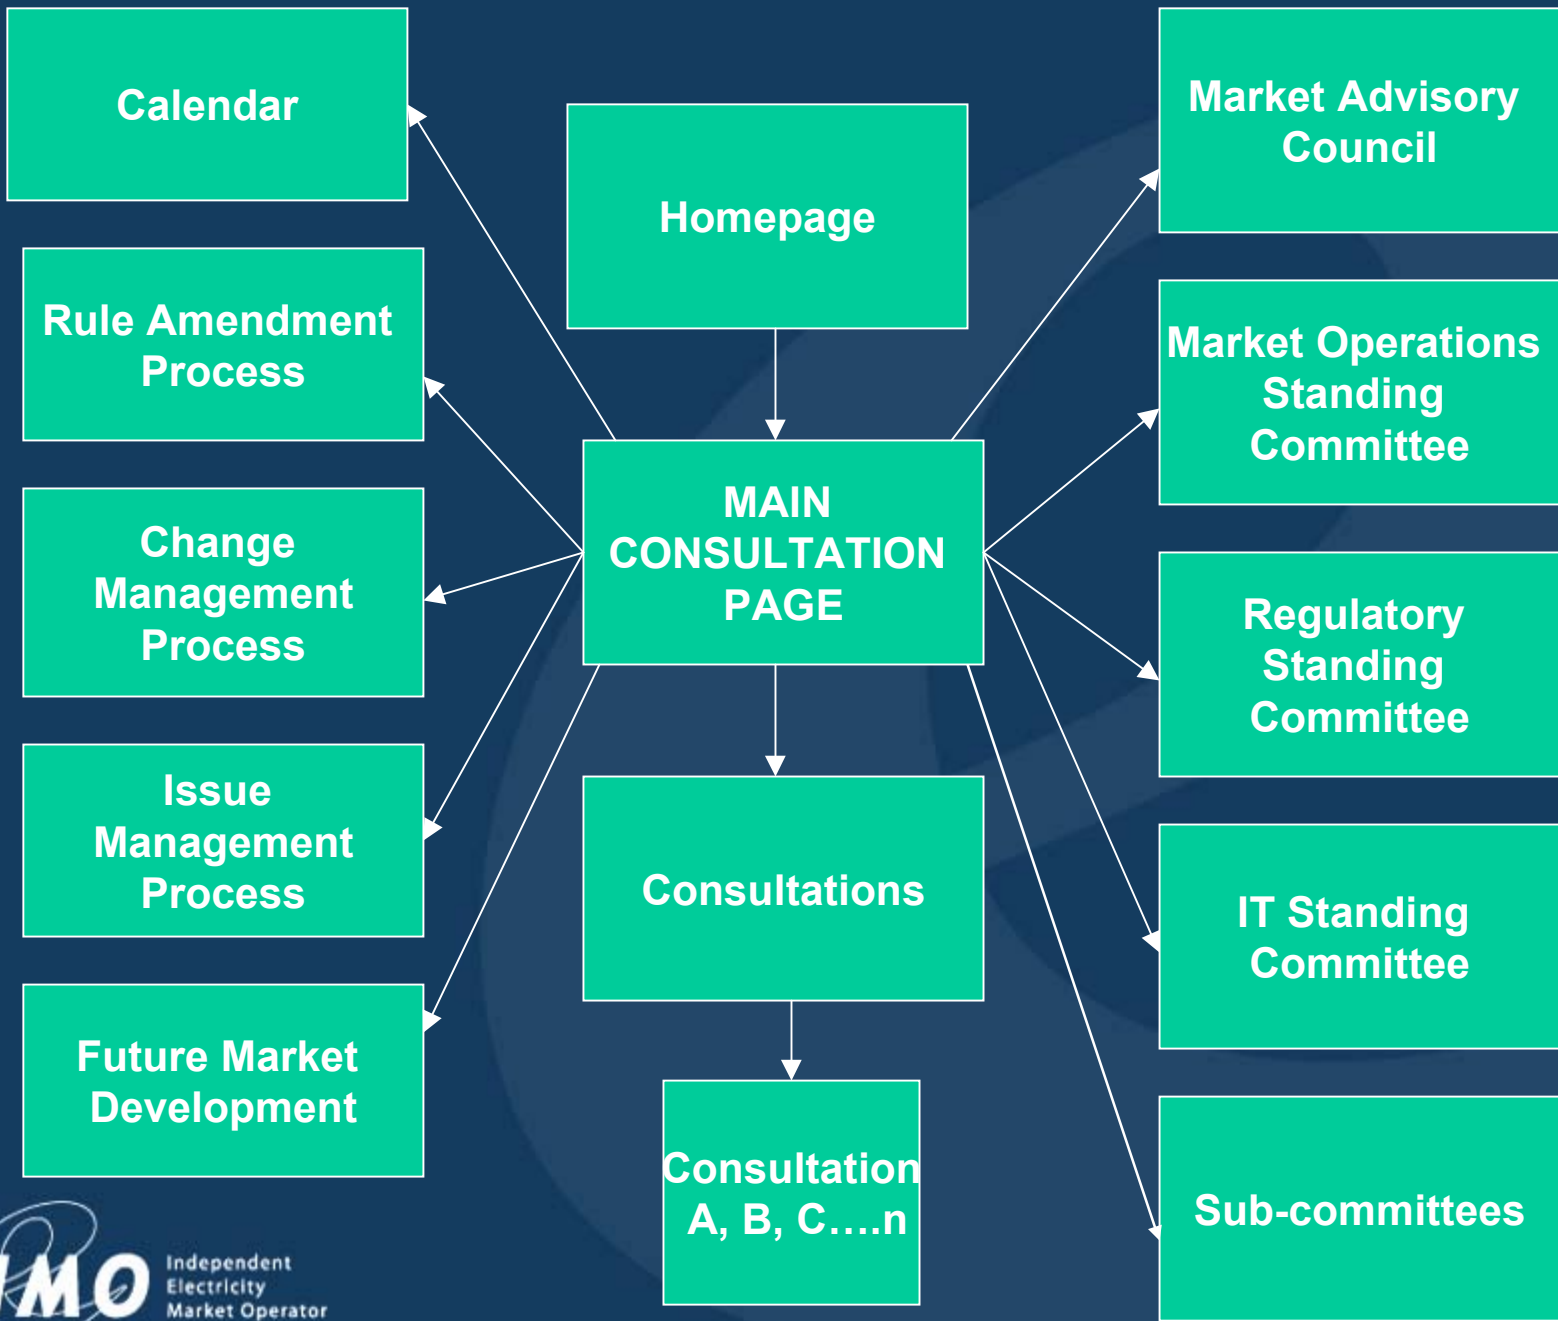

- Sponsor: Market Operations & Forecasts and Settlements
- Sub-committees:
 - Commercial Reconciliation
 - Metering
 - Forecasts and Assessments

Information Technology Standing Committee

- Sponsor: Information Technology & Infrastructure

Regulatory Affairs Standing Committee

- Sponsor : Regulatory and Government Affairs

Active Consultations

- Consultation Handbook
- Emergency Demand Response
- Market Evolution
- Reliability Must Run Contract
- Confidentiality Protocol with NYISO
- Assignment of MPMA Rebates
- Operational Performance Measures
- Resolution of Immediate Market Issues

Pending Consultations

- Demand-Side Considerations and Enhancements
- Elements of the Information Confidentiality Catalogue
- Concepts of Resource Adequacy Assurance

Stakeholder Roles within the IMO

The IMO is committed to the successful evolution of the market and achieving it through effective participant and stakeholder consultation